At School This Week

Welcome Back

We hope that you enjoyed the opportunity to have a rest last week and spend time together celebrating Bonfire Night and joining in with the traditions of Halloween. We have returned to a very busy week with the children being introduced to the new learning behaviour of 'Concentrating Colin' in the classrooms.

Staff began the week with a very successful training day where we were able to have further training from an external math's advisor and also join in with updates on the school feedback policy. We finished the day thinking about the elements of communication and how important the development of vocabulary is for pupils to make progress within their reading and writing.

Remembrance Service

Hindhayes staff and pupils were very pleased to be able to attend Elmhurst Junior School's annual service of remembrance on Friday of this week. As always the pupils were very well behaved and incredibly interested in chatting with the other visitors to the school. Elmhurst staff and pupil's always produce such a wonderful performance of songs and clips linked themed to remembering our fallen heroes. A special thank you to Daisy and Joseph who laid a wreath in the remembrance garden at the United Reformed Church on Saturday 23rd October on behalf of the school.

At School Next Week

Anti Bullying Week

Please remember that we will be having odd sock day on Monday 12th November in support of anti-bullying week. The children are welcome to wear an odd pair of socks to school with their school uniform.

Sounds Write Open Mornings

Thank you to the parents who have signed up for the Sounds Write sessions next week. Please do take the opportunity to come in and see your child in action and completing their phonics tasks. If you came in last year and are wondering whether or not to come in again the children will have progressed in their own understanding and skills and so will be working at a different level to a different expectation. So it

Congratulations once again to all those pupils who have achieved so well in their learning this week and have been chosen to receive certificates on Friday November 16th. Please note a change of time for celebration assemblies. Reception pupils will have their celebration assembly at 9.00 a.m. and Year 1 and 2 will continue to have their assembly at 2.30p.m. We look forward to seeing the parents of the following pupils at these times:
